THE GREAT PREACHER TALKS ABOUT UNCLEAN THINGS.

Food that Affects the Moral Nature.—"Melancholy is the Owl that is Perched in Many a Christian Soul—An Able Sermon on Interesting Subjects."

BROOKLYN, Nov. 25.—[Special Report for the LOS ANGELES TIMES.] At the Tabernacle this evening the great congregation sang the hymn beginning:

"Awake my soul to joyful song,
And sing the praises of thy King."
Rev. T. de Witt Talmage, D.D., preached, taking for his text: "And these are they which ye shall have in abomination among the fowls—the owl, the vulture and the bat. These also shall be unclean to you among the creeping things that creep upon the earth—the chameleon and the snail."—Leviticus, xi, 13-30. Following is the discourse in full:

The Bible offers every possible variety of theme, of argument and of illustration. We care not much in what kind of a pitcher the water of life is brought, if it is only the clear, pure water. God gave the ancients a list of the animals that they might eat, and a list of animals that they might not eat. These people lived in a hot climate, and certain forms of animal food corrupted their blood, and disposed them to scrofulous disorders, depraved their appetites and demeaned their souls. A man's food, when he has the means and opportunity of selecting it, suggests his moral nature. The reason the wild Indian is as cruel as the lion is because he has food that gives him the blood of the lion. A missionary among the Indians says that by changing his style of food to correspond with theirs, his temperament was entirely changed. There are certain forms of food that have a tendency to affect the moral nature. Many a Christian is trying to do by prayer that which cannot be done except through corrected diet. For instance, he who uses swine's flesh for constant diet will be diseased in body and polluted of soul, all his liturgies and catechisms notwithstanding. The Gadarene swine were possessed of the devil, and ran down a steep place into the sea, and all the swine ever since seem to have been similarly possessed. In Leviticus, God struck this meat off the table of His people, and placed before them a bill of fare at once healthful, nutritious and generous. But, higher than this physical reason, there was a spiritual reason why God chose certain forms of food for the ancients. God gave a peculiar diet to His people, not only because He wanted them to be distinguished from the surrounding nations, but because certain birds and animals, by reason of their habits, have always been suggestive of moral qualities. By the list of things from which they were to abstain, God wished to impress their minds against certain evils; and in the list of lawful things given, He wished to suggest certain forms of good. When God solemnly forbade His people to eat the owl, the vulture, the bat, the chameleon and the snail, He meant to drive out of His people all the sins that were thus emblemized.

I take the suggestion of the text, and say that one of the first unclean things the Christian needs to drive out of his soul is the owl. The owl is the melancholy bird of night. It hatches out whole broods of superstitions. It is doleful and hideous. When it sings, it sings through its nose. It loves the gloom of night better than the brightness of the day. Who has not slept in the cabin near the woods, and been awakened in the night by the dismal "to-hoo" of the owl? Melancholy is the owl that is perched in many a Christian soul. It is an unclean bird, and needs to be driven away. A man whose sins are pardoned, and who is on the road to heaven, has no right to be gloomy. He says: "I have so many doubts." That is because "you are lazy." Go actively to work in Christ's cause, and your doubts will vanish. You say: "I have lost my property." But I reply: "You have infinite treasures laid up in heaven." You say: "I am weak and sickly, and going to die." Then be congratulated, for you are so near eternal health and perpetual gladness. Catch a few morning larks for your soul, and stone this owl off your premises.

As a little girl was eating, the sun dashed upon her spoon and she cried: "O mamma, I have swallowed a spoon full of sunshine!" Would God that we might all indulge in the same beverage! Cheerfulness—it makes the homeliest face handsome; it makes the hardest mattress soft; it runs the loom that weaves buttercups, and rainbows, and auroras. God made the grass black? No; that would be too somber. God made the grass red? No; that would be too gaudy. God made the grass green, then, by this parable all the world might be led to a subdued cheerfulness. Read your Bible in the sunshine. Remember that your physical health is closely allied to your spiritual. The heart and the liver are only a few inches apart, and what affects one affects the other. A historian records that by the sound of great laughter in Rome, Hannibal's assailing army was frightened away in retreat. And there is in the great outbursting joy of a Christian soul that which can drive back any infernal besiegement. Rats love dark closets, and Satan loves to burrow in a gloomy soul. "Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous, and again I say, rejoice!"

Hoist the window of your soul in this 12 o'clock of your spiritual night. Put the gun to your shoulder, and aim at the black jungle from which the hooting comes, pull the trigger and drop that croaking, loathsome, hideous owl of religious melancholy into the bushes.

Again, taking the suggestion of the text, drive out the vulture from your soul. God would not allow the Jews to eat it. It lives on carcasses; it fattens among the dead; with leaden wing it circles about battle-fields. Wilson, the American ornithologist, counted two hundred and thirty-seven vultures around one carcass. If crossing the desert, when there is no sign of wing in the air, a camel perish out of the caravan, immediately the vulture begins to darken with vultures. There are many professed Christians who have a vulture in their souls. They prey upon the character and feelings of others. A doubtful reputation is a banquet for them. Some rival in trade or profession falls, and the vulture puts out its head. These people revel in the details of a man's ruin. They say: "I told you so." They rush into some store, and say: "Have you heard the news? Just as I expected! Our neighbor has gone all to pieces! Good for him!"

That professedly Christian woman, having heard of the wrong-doing of some sister in the church, instead of hiding the sin with a mantle of charity, peddles it all along the streets.

She takes the afternoon to make her long-neglected calls. She tells the story ten times before sundown, and every time tells it larger. She rushes into the parlors to tell it, and into the nursery to tell it, and into the kitchen to tell it. She says: "Would you have thought it? Well, I always said there was something wrong about her. Why, I should not speak to her if I saw her in the street. Is it not horrible? But better not say anything about it, because there may be some mistake. I do not want my name involved in the matter. I guess I will just go over and ask them at No. 263 whether they have heard it. I guess it must be so, for Mary Ann says that her husband saw a man who heard from his business partner that his blind old grandmother had seen something that looked very suspicious!"

The most loathsome, miserable, God-forsaken wretch on earth is a gossip. I can tell her on the street, though I have never seen her before. She walks fast and has her bonnet-strings loose, for she has not had time to tie them since she heard the last scandal. She looks both ways as she passes, hoping to see new evidences of depravity in the windows. I think that when Satan has a job so infinitely mean that in all the pit he cannot find a devil mean enough to do it, and all bribes and threats have failed to get one willing for the infernal crusade, he says to one of his sergeants: "Go up to Brooklyn, and in such a street, on such a corner, get that gossiping woman, and she will be glad to do it." And sure enough, like a hungry dog, she takes the hook in her mouth, and Satan slackens the line, and lets her run out farther and farther, until after awhile he says: "It is time to haul in that line," and with a few strong pulls he brings her to the beach of fire. What do you say? That she was a member of the church? I cannot help that. When Satan goes a-fishing, he does not care what school the fish belong to, whether it is a Presbyterian mackerel or an Episcopalian salmon. Amidst the thunder crash of Sinai, God said: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." And in Leviticus He says: "Thou shalt not go up and down as a tale-bearer." Take not into your ear that which he tells that people call tittle-tattle. Whoever willingly listens to a slander is equally guilty with the one who tells it, and an old writer says they ought both to be hung, the one by the tongue and the other by the ear. Do not smile upon such a spangle, lest, like a pleased dog, he put his dirty paw upon you. Throw back that shutting your soul, oh Christian men and women, and see if there be within you a vulture with filthy talons and cruel beak. Let not this unclean thing roost in your soul, for my text says: "Ye shall hold in abomination among the fowls the vulture."

Again, taking the suggestion of the text, drive out the bat from your soul. No wonder God set this bird among the unclean. It is an offense to every one. Let it fly into the window of a summer night, and all the hands, young and old, are against it. It is half bird and half mouse. It seems made partly to walk and partly to fly, and does neither well, and becomes an emblem of those Christians who are shuttling between earth and heaven at the same time. They want to walk on earth in worldliness, and yet fly toward heaven in spirituality, and their soul, between feet and wings, is constantly perplexed. Oh, my brethren, be one thing or the other! Choose the world, if you prefer it, and see how many dollars you can win, and how much applause you can gain, and how large a business you can establish, and how grand a house you can build, and how fast a span of horses you can drive. You may be prosperous until you can fail for $500,000, instead of having the disgrace of failing for only $10,000, as some unenterprising people do. It is quite a reward to be able for ten or twenty years to be called one of the solid men of Brooklyn or Boston; and then, to make your fortune last as long as possible, we will give you a splendid funeral, and you shall have 25 carriages following you, with somebody in the most of them, and your coffin shall have silver handles on the sides, and you will mourn for you in splendid pocket-handkerchiefs bound with crape, and with bombazine 20 full yards long, trailing half across the parlor, so that all the company must stand upon it, and we will write our letters for the next six months on paper edged with black. But my friends, your worldly fortune will not last. I will buy out now all that you will be worth in worldly estate 75 years from now. I have the money in my pocket with which to do it. Here it is! Two cents! It is a large sum to offer for all you will possess at the close of 75 years. Choose the world, if you want to; but, if not, then choose heaven. That estate lies on this side of the river, but mostly on the other. It is ever accumulating. The prospect of it makes one independent of earthly misfortunes; so that Rogers, the martyr, slept so soundly the night before his burning they violently shook him in order to get him awake in time for the execution; but Paul exults at the prospect of "joy unspeakable and full of glory." Oh, choose earth or heaven! Make up your mind whether you will walk in earthly joys or fly with heavenly expectations. Be not a bat, fit neither to walk nor fly, having just enough of heaven to spoil the world, and so much of the world as to spoil heaven. Christ says that your present condition makes Him to positive sickness: "Because thou art neither cold nor hot, I will spew thee out of my mouth!" In the ruins of Pompeii there was found a petrified woman, who, instead of trying to fly from the destroyed city, had spent her time in gathering up her jewels. She saved neither her life nor her jewels. There are multitudes making the same mistake. In trying to get earth and heaven they lose both. "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." Be one thing or the other. Tread the earth like a lion, or mount the air like the eagle; for my text says: "Ye shall hold in abomination among the fowls the bat."

Again, taking the suggestion of the text, drive out the chameleon from your soul. There is some difference among good men as to the name of this creeping thing which God pronounced unclean, but I shall take the opinion which seems best suited to my purpose. The chameleon is a reptile, chiefly known by its changeableness of color, taking the color of the thing next to it, sometimes brown, sometimes red and sometimes gray, but always the color of its surroundings, a type of that class of Christians who are now one thing in religious faith and now another, just to suit circumstances, always taking their color of religious belief from the man they are talking to. They go to one place, and are first-rate Unitarians; "Jesus was a good man, but nothing more." They go to Princeton, and they are Trinitarians, almost willing to die for the divinity of Jesus. Among the Universalists they refuse the idea of future punishment; and going among those of opposite belief, they announce that there is hell with a gusto that makes you think they are glad of it. Drive out that unclean chameleon from your soul. Do not be ever changing the color of your faith. My friends, liberal Christianity, falsely so-called, believes in nothing. God is any thing you want to make him. The Bible to be believed in so far as you like it. Heaven a grand mixing-up of Neros and Pauls. The man who dies by suicide in his right mind in 1888, beating into glory by ten years the Christian man who dies a Christian death in 1898; the suicide proving himself wiser than the Christian. Oh, my friends, let us not be led in some. An infidel was called to the bedside of his daughter. The daughter said: "Father, which shall I believe, you or mother? Mother took the religion of Christ, and died in its embrace. You say that religion is a humbug. Now, I am going to die, and I am very much perplexed; shall I believe you or take the belief of my mother?" The father said: "Choose for yourself." She said: "No; I am too weak to choose for myself, I want you to choose for me." "Well," said the father, after much hesitation and embarrassment, "Mary, I think you had better take the religion of your mother." The time will come when we shall have to believe something. We cannot afford to be on the fence in religion. Truth and error are set opposite to each other. The one is infinitely right, and the other infinitely wrong. In the judgment-day we must give an account of what we believed as well as for what we acted. The difference between believing truth and believing error is the difference between paradise and perdition. I beg you, in the light of the Bible, and on your knees before God to form your religious opinion and then stick to it, though business companions scoff, and wits caricature, and the air crackles with the fires of martyrdom. Surely truths in behalf of which Christ died and the angels of God trooped forth and the whole universe is marshaled are worth living for and worth dying for. Amidst the most unclean things is this ever-changing chameleon of religious theory. Away with the reptile! God abhors it with an all-consuming abhorrence.

Once more: Take the suggestion of the text, and drive out the snail from your soul. God has declared it unclean. It is an animal to be found everywhere between the coldest north and the hottest south. There are 1500 species of the snail. They have no backbone, and they are so slow that their movement is almost imperceptible. You see a snail in one place today, go to look for it, and you find it advanced only a few inches. It becomes an emblem of that large class of Christian people who go to work with a slowness and sluggishness that is wonderful. They are stopped by every little obstacle, because, like the snail, they have no backbone. Others mount up on eagles' wings, but they go at a snail's pace.

O child of God, arouse! We have apothecized Prudence and Caution long enough. Prudence is a beautiful grace, but of all the family of Christian graces I like her the least, for she has been married so often to Laziness, Sloth and Stupidity. We have a million idlers in the Lord's vineyard who pride themselves on their prudence. "Be prudent," said the disciples to Christ, "and stay away from Jerusalem;" but he went. "Be prudent," said Paul's friends, "and look out for what you say to Felix," but he thundered away until the ruler's knees knocked together. In the eyes of the world, the most imprudent men that ever lived were Martin Luther and John Oldcastle, and Wesley and Knox. My opinion is that the most imprudent and reckless thing is to stand still. It is well to hear our commander's voice when he says "Halt!" but quite as important to hear it when he says "Forward!" This gospel ship, made to plough the sea, will not make fifteen knots an hour, is not making three. Sometimes it is most prudent to ride your horse slowly and pick out the way for his feet, and not strike him with the spur; but when a band of Shoshone Indians are after you in full tilt, the most prudent thing for you to do is to plunge in the rowels and put your horse to a full run, and saying "Go along!" until the Rocky Mountains echo it. The foes of God are pursuing us. The world, the flesh and the devil are after us, and our wisest course is to go ahead at swiftest speed.

When the Church of God gets to advancing too fast it will be time enough to use caution. No need of putting on the brakes while going up hill. Do not let us sit down waiting for something "to turn up," but go ahead in the name of God and turn it up. The great danger to the church now is not sensation, but stagnation. Oh, that the Lord God would send a host of aroused and consecrated men to set the church on fire, and to turn the world upside down. Let us go to work and catch the last snail in our souls. With divine vehemence let us stamp its life out; for my text declares: "These also shall be unclean to you among the creeping things that creep upon the earth; the chameleon and the snail." I have thus tried to prejudice these Christian men and women against gloominess and sloth, and half-and-half experiences, and changeableness and sloth. Our opportunities for getting better are being rapidly swallowed up in the remorseless past. This golden Sabbath is about to drop out of the calendar. This moment may we drive out all the unclean things from our souls—the vulture, and the bat, and the owl, and the chameleon, and the snail; and in place thereof bring in the Lamb of God, and the Dove of the Spirit! The case is urgent. Arouse! Before it be eternally too late! "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it!"

THE LEGISLATURE.

Democratic in Both Branches—The Membership.

[San Francisco Chronicle, Nov. 21.]
The complete returns on Legislature make many changes, and show that the Democrats will have control of both branches of that body. Of the Senators in the odd-numbered districts, voted for on the 6th instant, the Republicans secured 14 and the Democrats 8; but the latter had 16 hold over Senators from even-numbered districts, and the Republicans only 4, one of whom, Chandler, representing the Twelfth District, died recently, leaving the vacancy to be filled by a special election. Of the newly elected Assemblymen the Democrats secured 42; and the Republicans 38. The following is a complete list of the members of the next Legislature. Of the Senators, those from even-numbered districts are holdovers:

If You Are Sick

With Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Blood Humors, Kidney Disease, Constipation, Female Troubles, Fever and Ague, Sleeplessness, Partial Paralysis, or Nervous Prostration, use Paine's Celery Compound and be cured. In each of these the cause is mental or physical overwork, anxiety, exposure or malaria, the effect of which is to weaken the nervous system, resulting in one of these diseases. Remove the cause with that great Nerve Tonic, and the result will disappear.

Paine's Celery Compound

Jas. L. Bowen, Springfield, Mass., writes:—"Paine's Celery Compound cannot be excelled as a Nerve Tonic. In my case a single bottle wrought a great change. My nervousness entirely disappeared, and with it the resulting affection of the stomach, heart and liver, and the whole tone of the system was wonderfully invigorated. I tell my friends, if sick as I have been, Paine's Celery Compound."

PASADENA NEWS.

D. J. BEHEN TRIES TO MAKE HIMSELF RIGHT IN PUBLIC EYES.

Rev. Cantine at the Tabernacle—The Catholic Fair Closes—The Census to Be Taken—Personal Gossip.

PASADENA, Nov. 25.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The corner player of the Salvation Army should be squelched. Music of the thirty-second class falls too flat on the ears of musical Pasadena.

The Critic, the organ of the Democratic Club of this city, will remove to Los Angeles tomorrow.

The Methodist church contained a large congregation this morning, notwithstanding the muddy condition of a number of the streets. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Cantine, of the Los Angeles Fort-street M. E. Church. Excellent music was rendered by the choir, which has recently been strengthened by the addition of several good voices. After the anthem "Glory to God" had been sung by the choir, Dr. Cantine took the stand, taking his text from the 20th and 21st verses of the 20th chapter of the second book of Chronicles.

In substance he said: When God took Israel out of bondage they were slaves, and as they went out they took upon themselves a burden of poverty and ignorance. As they march through the wilderness, mark the change that flows from them. God's right hand is with them. The waters of the Red Sea are divided to pass them safely over on the other side. Their history on this side is one of conquest and supreme guidance into the land of Canaan. There is a lesson in this for us today. There is no rest unbroken this side of heaven. As, like the children of Israel, there is scarcely a day we are not met by adversaries. We cannot forecast what will come to pass. It is impossible to know when the tempter comes. Few people, whom I have met, do not know the difference between temptation and sin. It is the yielding consent that makes the sin. It is not the will of God we should be defeated in the conflict—if we fall it is because we have not made our peace with God. It is not in our watchfulness, neither our resolutions, nor in our prayers we are fully saved. These, however, are essential to a Christian character, but we must put ourselves in His hands and win the victory that overcometh.

Prayer leads us to God; faith puts us there. In the latter case victory is sure. Jesus saves to the uttermost when that faith reaches up to Him. "My brother," are you tempted? If so, then, my friend, while away the day in song. It will drive the tempter away from you. Accept God as your savior and you will find Him swifter in your heart than the tempter. You, who are utterly in weakness, shall hear the voice of God saying, "It is I, be not afraid." In conclusion let me say, you who do not sing should learn to sing, for your weakness today will be your strength tomorrow.

The sermon was attentively listened to without, and contained much food for thought to those who are constantly tempted.

THE WRONG MAN (?)
D. J. Behen, a member of Ross's defunct detective agency, and who is in the employ of the city at the munificent salary of $1 a year, is much exercised over THE TIMES article of yesterday in reference to the arrest of a San José officer as a suspicious character. To give vent to his feelings he uses the columns of the Tribune, in order to convince the public how he made the blunder. Yesterday the Marshall's office was besieged by several reporters who scoured the city in search of the officer who committed the error. When found, each one denied the accusation, and said it was the other fellow. Mr. Behen, however, unable to retain silence and a petty conceit, at the last minute comes out, and through the columns of the Tribune, seeks to place himself right in the public eye. The error has been done, no one has been hurt, and Mr. Behen should apologize to the public for committing the error. He should be promoted, and allowed a more liberal policy and salary.

TAKING THE CENSUS.
Steps will be taken in a few days to commence taking the census of the city. The necessary blanks will be gotten out this week, and the directory, when finished, will be one of the most complete documents ever issued by the Council. Meantime the duplex system of street naming is being done away with, and the house-numbering project being pushed rapidly to completion. Considerable difficulty is being encountered in the latter scheme, many persons refusing to be put to the extra cost of securing a new address for their residences. Postmaster Masters has been assured that free delivery is a certainty, as the city now numbers over 10,000 inhabitants. The Council have also become interested in the matter, and are doing all in their power to make Pasadena a city of the fourth class.

Y.M.C.A.
The young men of the city met this afternoon in Morgan Hall at 3 o'clock for divine worship. The services were preceded by a song service of 15 minutes by the male choir, who rendered some very excellent music. At 8:15 the meeting was opened with a scriptural reading, which was followed by prayer by Mr. Glass. William H. Mead, secretary of the Los Angeles association, was introduced, who took for his subject "Promises." The speaker carefully handled his subject and was listened to very closely throughout his brief address.

THE FAIR.
The Catholic fair which has held sway at Williams's Hall during the past week was brought to a successful close last evening. However, by request, a portion of the fair will be continued tomorrow evening, on which occasion dancing will be the chief attraction. The Pasadena band and the Bohemian orchestra have been secured, and will introduce delightful music at frequent intervals. Last evening the contest, on the gold-headed cane, over which there has been so much rivalry, closed at 10 o'clock. The vote at that time stood, Hermann, 1100; Gallagher, 926. A friendly dispute arose, and the cane was finally let go to Gallagher by the referee.

The ladies of the church have worked faithfully for the success of the fair, and the receipts from the fancy articles' booth will net the church over $300. The shooting gallery has been running to big business all week, and the net gain from this popular sport will count up to $140. The dining-room has been constantly kept going, and over 400 people have been fed at 25 cents per capita. The money received for admissions will also net the church quite a neat little sum.

The old depot, which has served to good purpose until the completion of the new one, will be removed tomorrow down Broadway to its former place.

The Wooster block received its finishing touches yesterday and was turned over to the owner. The building is the finest in the city and cost the owner $35,000. In architecture it is unique in style and was designed for hotel purposes.

An adjourned session of the Council will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Water is the object of the meeting.

Last evening the quietude of Lamanda Park was rudely broken in upon by Richard Kestor and Robert White, vags by occupation and dirty by nature. These tourists began by imbibing pretty freely, and then commenced to paint the town of a roseate hue. Before they had gotten well along in their hilarity, they were captured by Deputy Constable Gowie and brought in to this city, where they were locked up. One had a razor on his person.

PERSONAL.
W. H. Storms of the Union, W. U. Masters and Clarence S. Martin, who have been down in the Mojave country exploring mines since Tuesday, arrived home this morning.

C. L. Walker of the People's Store of Los Angeles was visiting old acquaintances here today.

The following registered at the Carlton today: W. H. Jacobs, Oakland; A. S. Alfred, New York; E. C. Hickman, San Diego; E. Waldo Ward, New York, and D. L. Grove, Samuel Wright and Miss Tunes of Los Angeles.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Southern Pacific Right of Way.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The matter of the new right of way for the Santa Monica Railroad, along Pine street to Alameda street, has frequently been mentioned in your columns, and the Southern Pacific Company's agents are constantly recommending that our City Council is preventing the occupying of the new depot by delaying the granting of the franchise asked for. The fact is that the company is not ready to use the depot yet, as its connection with the main line going east is not built. The Santa Monica trains can easily reach the depot over their present track, which connects with the depot track only four blocks north of it, until a direct and better right of way and connection with the Alameda-street tracks can be had across the Briswalter estate at the side of the city, where it would be agreeable to all parties concerned.

There is a strong pressure being used to hurry the above franchise through before our Council or people will realize the great injury and loss that will certainly follow if it is granted. The document is quite innocent looking, as it only asks permission to build a track along or near Pine street, to connect the San Pedro and Alameda street tracks; but it virtually is a franchise for nearly a mile of existing track on San Pedro street also; for the company is already under contract to vacate all of San Pedro street, north of Vejar street, and a denial of this franchise would cause a vacation of all of San Pedro street, and the adoption of the direct route above mentioned. The great public advantage of such a change will be readily seen when we remember that the present assessed value of the property affected by the proposed franchise is about $800,000. If the franchise is granted the property will continue to be permanently depressed in value. If not granted, and the track removed and laid on the direct Briswalter route, it is safe to estimate that these assessed values will easily double in five years, and average during the next ten years. This great increase of values will, at our present rate of city taxation, yield this city the large sum of $12,000 per annum, or $120,000 during the next ten years. For a franchise that will deprive the city of all this increased revenue, injure a large number of our citizens and property owners, and continue to practically close San Pedro street, this wealthy company does not offer to pay the city one dollar—nothing at all but the usual agreement about street grades and crossings.

Now this company is not an object of charity and certainly has never benefited the city or county of Los Angeles as such, and while giving it all proper encouragement we must protect our own interests and those of our fair city.

Already the property-owners along San Pedro street are planning to widen the street from 96 to 110 feet from Fifth street to the south side of the city. Granting any other improvement would soon follow, and it would shortly become one of our finest avenues, as it is the natural outlet for much of the best fruit and farming country south of us.

It has long been a matter of regret that a franchise was ever granted for a railroad along the street, but now the City Council now has it in its power to do away with it entirely by denying this franchise, and we hope it will do it, regardless of all side issues and minor considerations.

Mr. Griffith has lately made a great reduction in his terms, and now offers the railroad company the right of way across the Briswalter estate for $15,000. We trust that our Council will deny the franchise and let the railroad company adopt the direct route, either by purchase or condemnation.

Yours truly, G. G. CHARLTON.
[On their side the railroad company urge that they were forced to the Pine-street route by what they consider the unreasonable demands of Mr. Griffith, and that to now adopt the southern route would cause them expense and delay to which they object.—ED. TIMES.]

Complaints of Unfairness.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The editor of the Tribune sent one of his brilliant reporters to report Mrs. Booth's lecture, last Wednesday evening, who most shamefully and maliciously misrepresented the lady from beginning to end.

We wrote to the editor, showing the great injustice of his report, but he ignored it, perhaps because he was the own reporter on that occasion, and the report gives us his style of diction, as well as his ability in other ways as a "great journalist." But when a man gets so lifted up that he thinks, because he is at the head of a newspaper, he can with perfect impunity misrepresent and vomit out his spleen at whomever he pleases, it was time he was taken down a notch or two.

A paper that will misrepresent and falsify the public cannot rely upon.

WE CURE CATARRH!

—AND—

Guarantee that Cure to Be Permanent,

OTHERWISE NO CHARGE WILL BE MADE.

We have the most improved apparatus and inhalers in the world for the treatment of diseases of the THROAT and LUNGS, and are thus enabled to cure cases seemingly past all hope, and hundreds in this city who expected to derive benefit from our beautiful climate and fall-dry have this treatment and a Merciful Providence to thank for restored health and prolonged life. Our improved inhalers do not merely convey the odor of the medicine, which usually has very little remedial qualities, but they remedy which is beneficial, but to a lesser extent, when taken by the stomach, can, without irritation, be carried directly to the seat of the disease, where its value is enhanced a hundred fold.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Very many persons have CATARRH in its earlier stages, which sooner or later will undermine the general constitution, and lead to that most dreaded of all diseases, consumption, or perhaps merely destroy the hearing, who attribute the trouble to a cold and think it will soon pass off, but instead a fresh cold seems to be taken before one is entirely free from the last. An unpleasant stiffness is felt in the nostrils, and the constant use of a handkerchief is necessary, the discharge being watery, yellowish or greenish, and streaked with blood, or the nostrils may be comparatively free and the discharge pass back, necessitating a hawking to clear the throat. The mucous may be difficult to raise or may be detached very easily. Later on a dry cough, caused by tickling in the throat, which is very persistent, sets up, the patient may raise a little blood, and soon begins to lose flesh; may have slight chills and fever, some symptoms of indigestion are often noticed, and the appetite is capricious. A sense of weariness is experienced upon slight exertion, and shortness of breath and quick beating of the heart is noticed upon ascending a flight of stairs.

If any of these symptoms are noticed, the friends should insist upon the patient, who seldom realizes his condition, consulting a physician, and having a thorough examination of the lungs made, so that the disease, if it exists can be arrested while there is yet time before the lungs are destroyed to any considerable extent.

Inhalation, combined with constitutional medication, is the only successful treatment in the majority of these cases. We will cure every case of CATARRH of the NOSE and THROAT of one or forty years' standing, whether there is a thick mucus in the head or ulceration of the worst type, causing destruction of the tissues and bones of the nose and a very offensive breath, and if the lungs are affected, our treatment is the most rational and successful.

The celebrated Dr. Fordyce Barker of London says: "Inhalation, when employed by a physician of skill and experience, yields an extraordinary large percentage of cures in diseases of the air passages. It is unfortunate that so few ordinary practitioners have had the training necessary to the use of this method."

POINTS OF THE MORNING NEWS.

A terrible storm raging on the Atlantic coast. Another letter from the alleged Whitechapel murderer. Gen. Boulanger makes a warlike speech. Annual report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Gen. Crook's adventure with Chicago gamblers. Speeches at the Stanford banquet in San Francisco. Heavy rains in Mexico. Disappearance of the jury in the Stone murder trial at Hollister. A Yuba county election contest compromised. Weekly clearing-house report. How Anarchist Sunday-schools are conducted in Chicago. Prize fight in Leavenworth county, Kan. Passenger trains arranged by the Transcontinental Association. Memorial services for Thomas A. Hendricks at Indianapolis. Plans of the proposed Emin Bey relief expedition. German designs on Zanzibar. Seven African slaves captured near Suakin. Murder at San Francisco. The West Virginia election contest. Base-ball.

The Liberals of Spain are striving to secure universal suffrage.

ALABAMA gave Cleveland 60,113 majority, and South Carolina 52,085.

The doubtful States in 1892 will be south of Mason and Dixon's line. They will be Virginia, North Carolina, Missouri and Tennessee.

Gov. Church of Dakota and the postmaster of Findlay, O., have set a good example. They have already resigned, to take effect March 4th.

If the Republican party is good enough to manage the affairs of the United States—which it is—it ought to be entrusted with the municipal government of Los Angeles—which it will.

The citizens of Los Angeles must not depend entirely upon the Chamber of Commerce to boom our city and advance our interests. Each citizen must constitute himself a committee of one to promote the good work.

GEN. HARRISON, when in the Senate, favored giving North Dakota the name of Lincoln. It seems that the people of that section object to that name. They want their State to be called North Dakota.

RUSSIA, it is semi-officially stated, has renounced all interest in Bulgaria. This looks as if the entente cordiale would get away with the caus belli. Possibly, however, the status quo will step in and appropriate the persimmon.

It is said that there is a prospect of Warner Miller returning to the Senate in place of Senator Everts, who will be appointed to the Supreme Bench in place of Judge Blatchford, who will be retired.

UNDER the new law, Presidential electors meet on the second Monday in January next. Their ballots are conveyed to Washington, and are counted by Congress in joint session on the second Wednesday in February.

WHAT Gen. Grant said in 1876 is interesting just now: "Whenever the Democratic party comes near to complete control of the country, it will break its back across the Alleghany Mountains on the tariff question."

THERE is no reason why the United States should continue to send immense sums abroad for sugar. A Kansas paper predicts that in five years the State will make her own sugar, and in ten years have millions of pounds to sell.

If President-elect Harrison has not yet given orders for the make-up of his new Cabinet we would like to call attention to the fact that one of the largest and best equipped furniture manufacturing in America is about being opened near this city.

A FLORIDA orange-grower has been experimenting with packing oranges in dry sand, and finds that some thus treated the first of last December have kept as fresh as if just picked. It might be a good idea for our Southern California orange-growers to experiment in the same direction.

THE way some of the cobble-stones are being laid in this city they will not last more than two or three years. As, for instance, on Los Angeles street, near First. The foundation is not good, and there are gaps which allow the water to seep between the stones. Who is to blame for this?

REGARDING the proposed establishment of a Southern California exhibition in London, the San Francisco Bulletin says:
"The Fruit-growers' Convention wants the Legislature to aid financially the establishment of an exhibition of California products in London. The more business-like way would be to obtain subscriptions from those who have an interest in maintaining such an exhibition, which means the land-owners and business men of the State."

The Solid South—Tone of the Southern Press.

It is interesting to note the comments of the southern press on the election of Gen. Harrison. While some of the Bourbon sheets profess apprehension at the course of the Republican administration and advise that the South make itself more solid than ever, we are pleased to observe that many influential southern papers advocate a different course. Thus the Wilmington Messenger says:

"We know that the President-elect is one of the first men of the country, and we believe that he will administer the affairs of the Nation with ability and reasonable satisfaction. We expect the new Administration to be partisan, in the proper sense, but we do not look for an offensive display of partisanship. The political offices will, of course, be filled by Republicans, as they should be. The spirit of civil service reform will, we have no doubt, animate the new Administration."

The Vicksburg Index-Appeal sees the need of a change:
"It is important for the South to comprehend the change that has occurred in its labor system and other concerns, and, laying aside passions and prejudices, to seek about adapting itself to this change. There is yet a glorious future for the undeveloped South, but it cannot be achieved on the old lines of policy. Change, and men must change with them."

The Macon Telegraph makes this suggestion:
"What the Republican policy toward the South will be, of course, very uncertain. It is possible that it may be directed toward dividing the white vote rather than toward keeping the negro vote solid. The latter policy, pursued over twenty years, has deprived the party of all power in the South. The solid negro vote has been a source of weakness instead of strength, because it forced all white men into opposition. If this policy should be abandoned, we will probably see Mr. Harrison appoint to office the best men in the South who will accept service under him, without regard to party allegiance. The result would be a respectable and efficient administration of public offices, perhaps, and, almost certain, a more intelligent and skillful leadership of Republican forces in this section."

With even greater candor and fairness the Macon News says:
"General Harrison is entitled to a fair and honest trial, and just judgment from the southern people. His danger will be that men will seek to mislead him as to the Federal service in the South. Even in this it is but fair to state that he can make any mistake over Mr. Cleveland, who leaves the Presidential chair quite as ignorant of the real situation of the South as when he first occupied it. We bespeak for southern men, alive to the interests of their section and its great possibilities, a fair and manly reception of the Administration to be inaugurated by Gen. Harrison."

Finally the Vicksburg Evening Post, after expressing its disbelief that the Harrison administration will adopt an aggressive policy toward the South, says:

"This election has demonstrated that the additional electoral and Congressional strength of the South, based upon the negro population, is not a thing to be feared by the publicans, and there is no reason why the South should desire to hold on to it. It has been an unfortunate thing for the South and the Nation that conditions were such that this section was apparently compelled to claim the benefits derived from this vote and then deny its existence. It is to be hoped that the country and both political parties are now in a condition to settle and solve the problem that has been a disturbing element, and that it will continue to be so until it is settled."

The passages which we have quoted are very encouraging. They show that the South is ready for a change, and Gen. Harrison will have a great opportunity for good in that direction. We have no doubt that he will be thoroughly awake to the importance of the opportunity and quick to avail himself of it to the end that our country may be one indeed from Canada to the Mexican line.

Future of the Republican Party.

Those misguided individuals who maintain that the Democratic party is the party of the future, and that the Republican party has been steadily losing ground, should remember that the next Federal census will give the Republican States of the Northwest, settled largely by Republican voters from New England, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, an increased representation in the Electoral College and in Congress. Moreover, new States are soon to be created out of the Republican Territories of Dakota, Washington and Montana, and thousands of native-born Republican voters who have not cast a ballot for President or Congressman since they left their old homes east of the Mississippi will be enfranchised. Against the Republican gains in the Northwest such gains as the Democracy may make in Southern States like Texas will be insignificant. In view of facts like these, men who talk about the "natural decline" of the Republican party, and point with glee to the growth of the Democratic party in the slums of our eastern cities and manufacturing towns, are talking nonsense. A party which, while sending in the past eight years hundreds of thousands of voters beyond the Mississippi to people the new Northwest, has yet retained its grip on its old strongholds in the North and East, is in no immediate danger of dissolution.

How It Works.

We have frequently impressed upon our readers the necessity of keeping up the advertising of this section, and not sitting down under the assumption that we have captured everything, and need make no further effort. As we have on many occasions asserted and proved, the northern part of the State is active and alert in damaging Southern California whenever and wherever it has a chance. Several further instances of this have recently come to our notice. Last week there arrived in this city a party of fourteen eastern people, who intended to spend the winter in Los Angeles. When a friend, who was expecting them, saw their names in the paper, he hurried down to the hotel to see them, but on inquiring of the clerk, found that they had already left for San Francisco. The dreadful stories they had heard about Los Angeles on the road, coupled with a cursory view of our filthy streets, had scared them away.

Another instance. A gentleman who has just arrived from Chicago says that the city is covered with small posters drawing attention to the advantages of Northern and Central California. At the bottom of the posters are two or three lines, headed "Los Angeles," which read about as follows: "Los Angeles has no paved streets or sidewalks; no sewers; rents and living there are enormously high."

In view of such a state of affairs, we would again reiterate the necessity for our citizens to awake from their easy-going feeling of confident security, and make some effort to make permanent the advantages which we have gained, in great part through the systematic and persistent advertising of our resources.

Otherwise, we may wake up one day when it is too late and find ourselves left out in the cold.

SACKVILLE, after being permitted by the Government to import his wines duty free, sold them off at auction the other day, instead of drinking them up himself, which he could not do for want of time; nor could he carry them back to England without paying duty to the mother country. And now there is "kicking" among the wine-dealers of the Capital, who are put at a disadvantage in the market by Mr. Murchison's victim, inasmuch as they have to compete with him by selling dutiable wet goods in competition with the commercial diplomat. But a little thing like that should not be brought up against Lord Sackville, who has had enough bad luck already.

A NEW YORK Herald correspondent attempted to interview Gen. Harrison on the 10th inst. about his policy as President, but he shut pan upon him with a vim that promises well for the future. Gen. Harrison said that he "believed in the policy of silence." He had not been interviewed since the election, and he did not intend to be.

REGARDING the New York Mugwumps, the Atlanta Constitution candidly observes:
"But whatever the cause of the defeat of Mr. Cleveland, there can be no doubt of one fact, to wit: That every candidate opposed, berated and abused by the Mugwumps in New York city was elected by overwhelming majorities. There was no tariff question in the intention of the voters to smash the Mugwumps."

A REPRESENTATIVE of the West system of sewerage is at Fresno for the purpose of endeavoring to sell the right to use the system to that city. Fresno had better wait to see what Los Angeles concludes to do. There is a good deal to be said pro and con on such questions.

We sincerely hope that the councilmen who shall be elected next month will thoroughly realize the urgent necessity of pushing work on our streets and other public improvements.

The Stranded Bugle.

BY L. E. MOSIER.
One eve I, musing, paced the sands
That skirt a shore where sits the sun;
Where every ripple of the sea
Is warm as kisses, love to love;
I listened to the chattering waves—
The lace-like shells which wet and love
The tinted shells upon the beach.

Among the jetsam washed ashore,
I found, deep in a sea-weed bed,
A bugle, with the rhyme of years
Corroded, tarnished, long since dumb.
I paused, and wondering whence it came,
Stooped down and took it from the sand.

Long, long before, I young, had stood
Where armies gathered and advanced,
Where sabers clanked and trumpets blared—
And I had been a bugler then.

I dipped the mouth-piece in the sea—
I dipped the bell into the sea—
I listened to the chattering waves—
Then held to lip, and flung a blast
Out on the pulsing starlit air.

The long-hushed bugle woke and rang
A limped cadence 'long the shore,
Which drifted out to sea, and came
In ripples back upon the waves,
Which rocked its echoes back and forth
From cliff to cliff—against the crags—
Far up the heights, around and round
As though it pealed, "I'm found, I'm found!"

I blew again, a softer note,
Though full, which ran along the land—
I listened to the chattering waves—
I thought (but could it swell so high?)
I heard it echo 'gainst a star,
Then drop into the placid sea,
A strain of perfect melody.

I hear that lost note ringing yet,
Like a cry of last one far away
Adrift, and drifting past recall:
"Fancy may be soul—
Perhaps the soul of melody!"
So let it drift, and sink, and swell
With every motion of the deep!
The bugle hangs against my wall,
And when I will—I'll send once more
A blast upon to the sea,
To keep the lost one company.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—This evening Dan'l Sully, the Irish comedian, will open a week's engagement in Daddy No. Tomorrow evening The Corner Grocery will be produced.

A FATAL BLOW.

A Landlord Killed for Dunning His Tenant.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.] Last Friday night Frank Wessell, proprietor of the Central Pacific lodging-house, went to the room of Joseph McDermott, who was stopping at the house with his wife and family, and demanded $9 rent which he claimed was due. Some warm words ensued, and McDermott claims that Wessell abused his wife, calling her a name which reflected on her character. This enraged McDermott, that he picked up a hatchet and struck Wessell a blow on the head, from the effects of which he died this afternoon. McDermott was arrested this evening, and charged with murder. The affair was kept quiet until it was found that Wessell's wound would prove fatal.

The Jury Disagreed.
HOLLISTER, Nov. 25.—The jury in the case of W. H. Stone, charged with the murder of C. H. Walters in July last, disagreed today and was discharged, after being out 14 hours.

On a Long Tramp.
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Forty-one men started on a six-day tramp at Madison-square garden tonight. Eight thousand persons were present.

Notice to Mariners.
OFFICE OF UNITED STATES LIGHTHOUSE INSPECTOR,
TWELFTH DISTRICT,
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24, 1888.

A rocky shoal on which, it is reported, there is about twenty-two (22) feet of water, is said to have been found by fishermen three-quarters (3/4) of a mile southeast of the whistling buoy of the entrance of Port Harford (San Luis Obispo), California. This shoal will be definitely located and buoyed at the earliest possible moment.
By order of the Lighthouse Board.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The first snowstorm of the winter which has been raging in this city and along the seaboard of New England and the Middle States today, has been of blizzard vigor. In the last several hours dragged their anchors under force of the storm, and were towed to safe anchorage with great difficulty.

PORTLAND (Me.), Nov. 25.—Capt. Trindy of the United States life-saving station reports: "No vessel sighted since morning. Last night we saw several running for shelter, as we supposed. Lord help anything off this coast tonight." Capt. Trindy added that it had been the worst day they ever experienced.

LEWIS (Del.), Nov. 25.—The American bark Moro Castle, bound from Philadelphia for San Francisco with 610 tons of coal, arrived at Delaware Breakwater last night shortly before midnight. At 9 o'clock this morning the bark's cables parted, and she was driven onto the breakwater, where she went to pieces. The crew were safely landed.

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.), Nov. 25.—The storm today brought in an extraordinary high tide, with a tremendous sea. A great deal of damage has been done along the ocean boulevard.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A dispatch from the signal office at Washington says that the gale reached a velocity of 80 miles per hour. The sea was high and rough. The bark Moro Castle, bound from Philadelphia for San Francisco with 610 tons of coal, arrived at Delaware Breakwater last night shortly before midnight. At 9 o'clock this morning the bark's cables parted, and she was driven onto the breakwater, where she went to pieces. The crew were safely landed.

At Salem, Mass., the storm was the worst for years.

SENATOR STANFORD.

He Speaks Enthusiastically of Gen. Harrison's Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.] At the banquet last evening given at the Pacific Hotel to Hon. Senator Leland Stanford and the Republican members-elect of Congress a number of toasts were responded to during the evening by representative men of the Republican party of the State.

When the toast "The President-elect" was proposed and Senator Stanford arose to reply he was greeted with loud applause. In substance the Senator said that he wanted to thank the gentlemen around him, and tell them how proud he felt. He had served in the Senate with Gen. Harrison, and he had then thought that Harrison would be President. He had advised that if a man from Indiana was selected to lead the Republican party it should be Harrison. He had grown up in the spirit of liberty, and he believed that the country was safe in the hands of the people, and he lived in that principle.

The Senator then reviewed the progress of the country, as he had personally observed it, and said that it was due to the Republican party, of whose principles Harrison was the embodiment. He believed that America could pay to labor forty times the wages it received in Europe and still compete with it, on account of the superior inventive genius of Americans. He had confidence in the principles of Republicanism, and thought the country was safe in Harrison's hands.

H. Z. Osborne responded to toast, "The President-elect." The Republicans of Southern California," was responded to by Hon. W. F. Fitzgerald, who paid a high tribute to the citizen belief for the great work it did for the Republican ticket in the late election.

YOUNG ANARCHISTS.

Herr Most's Doctrines Taught to Chicago Children.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The Executive Committee of the newly organized local Anarchist society, known as the Arbeiter Bund, has issued a circular calling a large mass-meeting for next Sunday, for the purpose of devising means by which to found Anarchist schools throughout the city. The circular was freely distributed today. It invites all Anarchists to investigate the society's literature, of which there are six in Chicago, each located in the rear of the basement of saloons.

One of the schools, in the back room of Raeborn Bros' saloon, at Lincoln avenue and Halsted street, was found to contain this morning 120 children, ranging from 5 to 14 years of age, seated on long benches listening intently to what a teacher was explaining to them about Johann Most. The teacher told them that Spies and Parsons had been murdered by capitalists, and referred to the dead Anarchists as martyrs.

WORSE THAN GERONIMO.

Gen. Crook Routed by a Band of Chicago Gamblers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[By the Associated Press.] Gen. Crook was induced by the dealers of the Wolf Street school to address 12,000 Chicago street urinals at a Thanksgiving dinner this afternoon. The subject of the address was to be his experience with the Indians. The result was amusing to all but the noted Indian fighter. Almost before he knew it, the General had a bad case of stage fright, the little street savages receiving him with such paralyzing and other like manifestations of devilry so extraordinary that the subduer of redskins lost his voice completely, and was obliged to retire to his seat, looking as fatigued as though he had just come back from a six days' fight with Geronimo. Nevertheless the dinner was the greatest success of the kind that ever took place in Chicago.

Did Teemer Sell Out?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—It is stated here tonight that men who waged money on the Teemer-O'Connor boat race yesterday declare that Teemer could have beaten O'Connor if he had tried. James W. Sullivan, who carried the case, said he would stake the stakes to $2500 and who had made other wagers to the extent of $3000 that Teemer would win, has sent a formal notice to each stakeholder not to pay over the money, as he proposes to contest the race free of decision.

The West Virginia Contest.

WHEELING (W. Va.), Nov. 25.—When the Supreme Court of Appeals meets tomorrow at Charleston, J. W. St. Clair will move for a writ enjoining the Governor from issuing certificates of election to G. W. Atkinson in the First District, J. M. McGinnis in the Third District, and C. B. Smith in the Fourth District, Republican Congressional seats. A test case will be made in the latter district. The grounds of the application have not been made known.

In Memory of Hendricks.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—The memory of Thomas A. Hendricks was honored today on the third anniversary of his death by memorial services over his grave, conducted by the Hendricks Club of this city.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Commissioner Miller Submits His Annual Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.] Joseph Miller, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has made an elaborate report to the Secretary of the Treasury of the operations of that service during the fiscal year ended June 30th last. The report shows the total receipts for the year to be $124,326,475, an increase of $8,489,174 over the receipts for the previous year, and more than the receipts of any year since 1883, when the receipts aggregated $144,053,845. The receipts for the year were also $4,326,475 more than the estimated receipts for the present fiscal year, which were $120,000,000, provided no changes are made in the existing rates of taxation.

The withdrawals for consumption during the year were as follows: Spirits distilled from apples, peaches and grapes, 880,107 gallons; other spirits, 70,677,379 gallons; fermented liquors, 34,680,319 barrels; cigars, 3,844,735,650; cigarettes, 1,802,726,749; snuff, 7,439,889 pounds; tobacco, chewing and smoking, 201,935,613 pounds; oleomargarine, 32,067,755 pounds. This shows a large increase compared with the previous year.

The cost of the collection of internal taxes for the year was $3,978,283, being less than 3.2 per cent of the amount collected. The cost of collecting for the previous year was 3.4 per cent of the amount collected. During the year 781 persons have been arrested for revenue violations. Property seized for seizure, and $73,619.14 for assessment for unpaid taxes and penalties. During the year 518 illicit stills were seized, resulting in the death of one officer and the wounding of another. The number of distilleries registered during the year was 3994, and the number operated was 3646. The number of grape distilleries registered was 1390, of which 1022 were operated, an increase over the previous year of 140 of the number registered, and of 60 in the number operated. There were 2384 fruit distilleries 1901; 2,439,889 operated, a decrease of 1302 in the number registered, and 1319 in the number operated.

THE FRUIT BRANDY TAX.

The Commissioner devotes a chapter to the subject of fruit brandy, and renews his recommendation of last year that authority be given for distillations from all kinds of fruit under the regulations which govern the production of brandy from apples, peaches or grapes exclusively. In regard to the proposition to remove the tax from spirits distilled from fruit, he says it appears to be probable that the relief of this article from taxation would lead to the utilization of a large number of the different fruits for the distillation of spirits and the production of an additional volume of such spirits, which might be reasonably expected to have an appreciable effect upon the tax paid on grain and molasses spirits. The reduction of the revenue by the abolition of the tax upon fruit brandy is not, in his opinion, to be measured by the subtraction of the present collections from that source. A considerably larger amount would, he says, in all probability, be lost, while mischief to the revenue service and other difficulties in the enforcement of the law as to grain and molasses spirits, out of all proportion to the amount of the tax surrendered, must be seriously apprehended.

The quantity of spirits (70,379,406 gallons) produced and deposited in distillery warehouses during the year is less than the production (77,831,599 gallons) of the year 1887-88, and more than the quantity (69,188,383 gallons) withdrawn from distillery warehouses during the year 1887 by 4,333,508 gallons. If the quantity (2,635,932 gallons) produced by the distilleries during the year 1887-88 is added to the quantity of spirits (70,379,406 gallons) produced and deposited in distillery warehouses during the year 1887-88, the total quantity of spirits (72,015,338 gallons) produced and deposited in distillery warehouses during the year 1887-88 is found to be 72,015,338 gallons, or 4,777,655 more than during the year 1887, including the quantity of spirits (70,379,406 gallons) produced and deposited in distillery warehouses during the year 1887-88. There was a net decrease of 709,708 gallons in the quantity of spirits withdrawn for export, as compared with the previous years.

ALCOHOL IN THE ARTS.

The Commissioner says, in response to numerous suggestions by members of Congress and others as to the practicability of withdrawing spirits from distillery warehouses free of tax for use in the mechanical arts, and protecting the revenue against fraud by demystifying spirits in bonded warehouses established for the purpose, that the microscope of his office has made experiments for the purpose of ascertaining whether such spirits could be demystified. From an exhaustive report it appears that he has succeeded in separating the methyl, or wood alcohol, and the ethyl, or taxable alcohol, and in denaturing a portion of the ethyl alcohol through the use of benzinol and other chemical substances. The Commissioner says further: "It may be urged that if demystification cannot be accomplished without the use of a still, the operator is readily liable to detection because of the special surveillance required by the internal revenue laws in the matter of stills and distilling; but I do not take this view of the case."

The quantity of spirits remaining in distillery warehouses at the close of the year 1887-88 was 61,088,018 gallons, being 4,112,535 more than the quantity so remaining at the close of the previous year. Of 864,704 gallons of grape brandy bonded during the fiscal year 535,988 gallons were produced in the fourth district of California, 10,089 gallons in the tenth district of Ohio and 416 gallons in the fifth district of New Jersey.

The quantity of distilled spirits in the United States, except what may be in customs bonded warehouses on the 1st day of October 1888, was 93,712,919 gallons. The aggregate amount of taxes collected from tobacco in all shapes during the year was $30,662,481, an increase of $54,335 over the collections from this source for the previous year. The export account shows an increase in manufactured tobacco of 224,700 pounds, a decrease in the number of cigars exported of 493,438, an increase in the number of cigarettes exported of 40,380,500. The number of cigars imported during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1888, was 84,363,780. The value of the manufactured tobacco imported was $88,457.

THE OLEOMARGARINE TAX.

The Commissioner devotes considerable space in his report to the subject of oleomargarine. The quantity of oleomargarine produced from November 1, 1886, the day on which the law took effect, to June 30, 1888, was 55,020,154 pounds. Tax was paid on 53,327,374 pounds. There was exported 2,692,780 pounds; lost or destroyed, 60,790 pounds; remaining in factory June 30th last, 315,900 pounds. There was 1,576,393 pounds of 2,306,648 pounds in the United States, June 30th last, of which 315,900 pounds was in the hands of manufacturers, 259,300 pounds in the hands of wholesale dealers, and 130,000 pounds (estimated) in the hands of retail dealers.

The Commissioner says: "The falling off in the number of special taxpayers has been the result of great solicitude in this office, as it may be partly due to fraud. The office has concluded to adopt a cheap and convenient form of microscope with polarizing attachment with which to make examinations of suspected butter in all parts of the country."

The estimated expenses of the internal revenue service for the year ending June 30, 1889, aggregate $4,145,393.

Clearing-House Reports.

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—A table, compiled from dispatches to the Post from the managers of leading clearing-houses in the United States, shows that the total gross exchanges for the week ended November 23rd were $1,654,184,392, an increase of 14.9 per cent as compared with the corresponding week in 1887.

THE REFORMERS.

TWO MEETINGS IN THE INTEREST OF GOOD GOVERNMENT.

Republicans Preparing for a Hard War Against Saloon Men, Macs, Gamblers and Houses of Ill-fame—The Reform Workers Mean Business.

The mass meeting for women, held at University Church, yesterday afternoon, in the interests of social reform, met with the hearty cooperation of the representative women of the city, and the attendance was all that could be desired. Mrs. T. C. Warner presided, and opened the meeting by reading the ninety-first psalm, beginning, "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." The audience then joined in singing "Hail Thee Me," after which prayer was offered by Mrs. J. W. Van Cleave.

Mrs. Warner then said: "I will introduce to you Mrs. Watson, who can tell you better than I why we are called together this afternoon." Mrs. Watson came forward and stated that the meeting was but a continuation of those already held. "The object," said she, "is to warn the mothers. We cannot do away entirely with the houses of prostitution, but we hope to save the children. Some girls from these houses are drifting out to fill houses of ill-fame, and our mission is to try to save them." Mrs. Watson then read a carefully-prepared paper which brought before the audience a clear and light the large amount of vice existing, not only in Los Angeles, but in other cities as well.

The speaker dwelt upon the importance of work as well as words in this reform movement. There is much to be done and no moments to lose. Time is short, eternity long, and she closed her remarks with the following apt illustration: "An eminent doctor of divinity has said if an angel were to come to the earth once in a thousand years and take away the smallest grain of sand and continue so to come every thousand years, each time bearing away the tiniest particle of earth, till the whole world should be removed, and then, in the same manner, grain by grain, it should be borne back again, till our old earth stood once more, in all that time the clock of eternity had not yet struck one, so infinitesimal and measureless is the beyond. This is the sowing time—what shall the harvest be?"

After singing "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," Miss Dunham was introduced as the next speaker and said: "Dr. Watson has referred to you on the subject of the social demoralization from the standpoint of a physician, but she was unavailingly detained, and I am requested to speak in her place."

"I can speak only from the standpoint of a teacher, also as an observer of society. Too many of us do not realize the weight of responsibility that rests upon us in regard to these things. I sometimes wonder if our eyes are closed, rendered in homes more wonderfully shielded and protected, inheriting a love for that which is true and true, too many of us fail to understand that we are accountable for those who were not thus guarded and kept."

"It seems to me that for these very influences that have been thrown around us we owe a debt of obligation to our unfortunate sisters. That good Methodist brother to whom the speaker preceding me referred as saying 'I and mine are safe—it is not necessary for me to do anything in regard to this matter,' is not a good Methodist brother, at all. I don't care who he is. There is a man in this Bible that teaches the lesson of responsibility. 'Thou art as thy brother's keeper.' 'I'm safe and my family is safe.' That isn't the principle that underlies our civil government."

"William Stead, the English reformer, who dared to unmask the venom of vice that was buried in London, and who probed the cancer of impurity in his native city on New Year's eve and wrote in his diary, 'I would be a savior.' 'It sometimes seems to me that the whole Christian world is just dropping off all responsibility of these things. How many services, both morning and evening, are held every Sabbath of every month of every year in the churches of this city, and right along, two to one, are the salacious and brothels with their attendant evils. While father and mother go to church with their children, how many of our youth are going down to dark infamy?"

"Preachers may preach, and teachers may teach, but so long as there is a saloon or a brothel down the black spot of our city, there will be beckoning fingers to the young men. It is work and not words that we want—aggressive work. It doesn't amount to anything to come together and talk. It's all a farce."

"These dens of iniquity ought not to be here. God Almighty doesn't want them here. He wants every one wiped out, and you, my sisters, who have come to this influence in this direction. We want first a clean, pure government for our city, and you, each of you, can bring your influence to bear on husbands and fathers, and see to it that the right men are placed in authority, and that this cloud of hellish blackness that hangs over our city may be lifted. Sisters, think and pray, and as you pray and think say, 'Lord, what wouldst Thou have me do?'"

The session continued for two hours, and the above pointed addresses were listened to with the greatest interest.

An Evening Session.

In the evening another meeting was held at Fort-street Church, and a large congregation of ladies assembled to listen to Mrs. Ruth Berryman Rydges, recently appointed pastor of the Pico-heights Congregational Church. Mrs. Rydges is of English birth and education, and has been engaged in evangelistic work for several years. Something over a year ago she came to America, and a few months later crossed the continent to California. She was in London during the great social reform movement a few years ago, and was one of the active workers in the cause of social purity.

The usual service of song preceded the meeting, followed by reading of the scripture lesson from Matthew xxv by Mrs. Rydges and prayer by Mrs. Mary E. Ramsom. A solo was then sung by Miss Katherine Kimbelle.

Mrs. E. W. Spencer, who presided over the meeting, then introduced Mrs. Rydges, who said: "Let us have a word of prayer before we go further," and offered an earnest petition for the blessing power and presence of the Almighty to regenerate and fill every heart. Mrs. Rydges has a deep, powerful voice and a wonderfully impressive manner of delivery, which by its directness carries force with every word. She took for her theme "The Duty of the Hour."

"Not a single woman's eyes," said she, "are closed to the sight of the vice, iniquity and reeking sin which exists in Los Angeles. We are so surrounded by evil that it is impossible to put your foot outside your own door without coming in contact with it. When I came to that first mass meeting held in this church and listened to the revelations of evil and crime which are rampant here, it carried me back to England to those fearful days when every true and earnest woman, every woman who loved her home, who loved her honor, who loved her home, was strong to uphold that which was right and pure, and so I felt that night, as I listened. Shall we, who have come to this city to live and to rear our families, fold our arms and say, 'The sin is so enormous we are afraid to touch it?'"

"Some say 'It is so great that we dare not handle it,' and others say 'the women had better let it alone and leave it for the men to do.' My friends, I think we've left it quite long enough."

"These little boys and girls of yours and mine, mothers, that we love so well, are no safer than other people's children, and you and I will see this curse brought to our own door if this evil be not checked. The vital question is: First, what needs to be done; and, second, how to do it."

"We are on the verge of an election, when the devil and his associates, the rum traffic, the saloon and the brothel, are fighting for the victory."

more one inch to give good laws and pure government.

"We cannot vote, but we can use our influence, every power and every faculty. How much influence you each have you each know. We all have some. We can place with them in whose hands the ballot is till they shall pledge themselves, for the sake of their mothers, their wives and their daughters, they will do this for us."

"It has been said, 'young ladies should not attend these meetings.' I have seen a young lady, who was over 42 years of age, and some 60, and then talk about keeping your daughters innocent of these things. It is a dangerous ignorance, not innocence."

"Shall we allow them to go with their eyes shut? What they do not learn from a mother's lips, they will hear elsewhere."

The speaker then addressed the mothers present in regard to their duty toward their young daughters, and related instances of her life in London, and the terrible consequences of ignorance upon the part of the young.

One of the speakers said: "It seems that the good pastors of this city worked themselves up into a terrible fever last Monday, and their preaching meeting, over the idea of young ladies attending these mass meetings, and according to the report given in the Christian Advocate, had a heated discussion in regard to their duty in keeping with the dignity and wisdom of such an august body."

Miss Dunham read the following announcement:

"A citizens' non-partisan reform mass-meeting will be held in Hazard's Pavilion next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. 'Every citizen who is opposed to the saloon, the gambling-house, the opium den and the house of ill-fame, and who is in favor of clean, efficient city government, is earnestly urged to be present.' J. P. Widener, Elmer C. M. Hough, C. P. Dorland, H. C. Witter, Miss F. Dunham, Mrs. J. D. More, C. B. Woodhead, C. N. Wilson, C. S. Miles, Executive Committee."

After reading the above, Miss Dunham said: "Every citizen means, not voters only, but women likewise, and a request is made that every woman who loves her name and her honor will be in person. When we read in the daily papers that there is an organized effort to raise $30,000 to defeat the election of good men to office, it seems as if the very evil one of perdition was at the helm. I would say, 'Every citizen' added the speaker, 'that although no objection has been made in the public press against good boys and young men attending these meetings, yet the same objection has been made in the public press, thereby recognizing that double standard of morals for both sexes. May God forgive them. Doubtless the thoughts expressed at those meetings are so much purer and more elevating than the setting forth of facts here, that innocent, sacred boyhood could not be harmed.'"

A meeting for women was announced for today at 2 p.m. in the Fort Street M. E. Church, when an interesting subject in connection with the work of reform will be discussed, and all ladies are requested to be present.

MAKING HAY.

Deputy Constables at Work While the Sun Shines.

The deputy constables are still carrying on their midnight work. They are determined to make as much money as possible before the first of the year, and from general appearances, some of them will go out of office with well-filled purses.

One of the out-ages committed by this band of licensed pirates only came to light yesterday.

It seems that a few nights ago several of these fellows were hovering about the Santa Fe depot looking for tramps, when they approached a car occupied by some track hands.

The old man in charge of the gang of men heard the officers prowling around the car. As thieves had given them a good deal of trouble before the old man had in-cased Mayor Workman to give him an anti-gun to carry a pistol while in camp, so he walked to the car door, pistol in hand, and asked what the men wanted.

The deputy constables became very impudent, and acted in such a manner that the old man threatened to shoot in case they did not leave.

The constables then rushed in on him and almost beat him to death before they got him down. They then entered the place and placed three or four of the men under arrest. The prisoners were conducted to the County Jail, where they were locked up until the next day, when they appeared before Justice Taney and were discharged as soon as the true facts in the case were learned. This is only one of the rage out of many that are committed every month.

There is a little piece of crookedness, or something else, going on in the justice courts that ought to be investigated by a grand jury. By watching the court dockets, as published in THE TIMES daily one will soon see that vags are tried and fined from $1 to $5 every few days.

Now, it is all right to try and convict these cattle whenever they are caught, but the justice has no more right to fine them than he has to make the defendant pay. Section 647 of the Penal Code is very plain on this subject. It states plainly that a person convicted under the "vagrancy" act shall be sentenced to not more than 90 days in the County Jail or chain-gang, and that he shall not be fined unless his offense is such that the courts see fit to add a cash fine to the sentence, which shall not exceed $200, but that the two shall go together, and if he fails to pay the cash fine at the expiration of his term of imprisonment, then he shall serve one day for every dollar of his fine, and the whole amount is either paid or worked out.

Justices of the peace have no right to discharge vags on the payment of a fine, and they know it, for the matter has been taken before the Superior Court on habeas corpus a number of times, and in every case the defendant has been discharged.

Now, the justice who carries on such business does it for but one reason, and that is if one of his regular customers is locked up for 90 days he will miss several $2 fees, for that is what he gets for every case tied before the justice, and the deputy constables get $2.40 for every arrest, so it pays for them to give the vags a slight fine, so that they can be again arrested in a few days, and "mace" are perfectly willing to pay small fines as long as they are not sent to jail.

The only way to get rid of these cattle is to give them long terms in the County Jail or the chain-gang.

VILE BRUTES.

Officers on the Track of "Mashers"

Who Insult Ladies on the Streets. Attention has been called by THE TIMES from time to time to these creatures called "mashers," who stand about on the principal streets and insult ladies as they pass by, either by addressing them directly or making remarks about them so that they can be heard. It was only a week or two ago that the daughter of a prominent attorney was insulted in front of one of the leading dry-goods stores, and yesterday afternoon a lady, accompanied by her brother, reported a similar case to Officer Sheets, saying that it was a pretty bad state of affairs when a lady could not walk the principal business street of the city in open daylight without an escort. She said that when going to Spring street, near Temple, a man dressed in a dark suit of clothes, wearing a white hat with a black band, had stepped out from a doorway and addressed her in an insulting manner. She had at once hunted up her brother and returned to the place, but the man had gone, and they wanted the officer to search for him, so that he could be punished. The lady said that she disliked very much the publicity which it would cause, but that some one should make a start for the protection of all, and she was willing to do it. The officer went into several saloons and other places where he thought the man might be, but he had evidently taken flight and left, at least for the evening. Sheets, however, had a good description of him, and if he shows up on Spring street again he will nab him, and as the lady left her address, there will be no trouble about identifying him.

There have also been several complaints about men hanging about the corner of Temple and Spring streets, and making remarks about ladies on the cable cars. Officer Sheets has been watching several of them for the past week or ten days, and as soon as he can be made against them, they will be taken in.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

South Pasadena, Nov. 24.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Vacant houses are becoming scarcer than Democrats in South Pasadena. A family of the name of Kendall have recently moved into the house on Buena Vista street, corner of Meridian avenue.

The new schoolhouse will be ready for occupancy next week.

City taxes become delinquent the first of next month.

Several parties who spent last winter in California are expected to arrive at the South Pasadena Hotel next week.

Mrs. M. Wetherill, proprietress of the restaurant near the Raymond, is doing a good business. It is a very pleasant and well-kept place, and as such is becoming deservedly popular.

Work on the Rapid Transit road north of the city limits has ceased, owing to trouble about the right of way. Will we ever get a rapid means of reaching Los Angeles? The people ought to be able to see the importance of the road, and do all they can to promote it.

Rev. S. J. Fleming's fine residence on Orange Grove avenue is receiving the finishing touches, and will be ready for occupancy next week. It will be quite an addition to our growing city.

PERSONAL.

Miss Wood, daughter of Rev. J. A. Wood, has returned from an extended visit in the East.

William Darby and bride returned Thursday from their eastern bridal tour. They are stopping at Los Angeles at present.

Rev. A. McCalla visited the family of D. M. Graham the first part of the week. It is said he will probably take the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church in this place.

C. M. Burr, wife and daughter of Detroit, Mich., are now stopping at the hotel. Mr. Burr was here last winter and was so charmed with the country he has now come to make a permanent home in this land of sunshine and flowers.

GARVANZA.

GARVANZA, Nov. 24.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Hepburn & Terry have moved their effects from the hotel to Los Angeles. Their departure is regretted by several of our citizens, who would have wished them good speed more heartily if they had kindly remembered to pay those little bills before leaving.

S. R. Corwin has sold the Pioneer store and lot on which it is situated, to H. S. Walters for $1200. He is selling out at a considerable loss.

J. D. Pyke has secured the contract for carrying the mail between the depot and postoffice, his bid being the lowest.

The pupils of the public school will give an entertainment on Friday evening, December 21st, for the purpose of raising funds to purchase an organ for the schoolroom.

A new cottage, to cost $1000, is to be built on the corner of Mountain avenue and Crescent street. F. M. Prince has the contract, and work was begun this week.

The case of Ralph Rogers against William Mulholland, who is charged with trespass, came on before Justice King on Friday, and was continued to December 4th.

A dime social will be held at the M. E. Church on Thanksgiving evening, under the auspices of the Woman's Aid Society. Coffee and doughnuts will be in attendance.

It is now definitely stated that a saloon will be opened in Garvanza the 1st of December, and that it will be in the store now occupied by S. R. Corwin. This is a matter that is likely to have considerable influence over the future of our town.

At The Palms.

THE PALMS, Nov. 24.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The social event of the past week at The Palms was the organ fund concert, given last Friday evening, under the auspices of ladies and gentlemen connected and working with the First Baptist Church.

The following was the programme arranged for the occasion.

PART I.

Instrumental trio, "Faust," Gounod (Messrs. E. B. Johnson, Messrs. W. C. McQuillen and W. H. Schilling).

Vocal solo, "Marguerite" (Meyer-Helmund)—Mr. J. M. Johnson.

Piano duet, "Seventh Symphony" (Beethoven)—Mrs. Dr. Beach and Miss E. B. Johnson.

Violin solo, "Scene de Ballet" (De Beriot)—Mr. W. H. Schilling.

Vocal solo, "Cavatina," from Gili Ugonotti (Meyerbeer)—Mrs. F. Marra-Voron.

Piano solo, "Polandaise, Op. 40" (Chopin)—Miss Rose Harrison.

PART II.

Piano duet, "Second Duet" (R. de Villaboa)—Mrs. Dr. Beach and Miss E. B. Johnson.

Vocal solo, "Love Will Shine All Through" (Pinaud)—Miss E. B. Johnson.

Vocal solo, "Eulalie" (J. Clanton)—Mr. W. C. McQuillen.

Vocal duet, "I Feel Thy Angel Spirit" (Graham)—Mrs. Dr. Beach and Mr. J. M. Johnson.

Instrumental trio, "Nocturne" (F. Behr)—Miss E. B. Johnson, Messrs. W. C. McQuillen and W. H. Schilling.

The talent engaged was partly local and partly from Los Angeles and San Francisco. The program was a combination of rare excellence. The concert was a musical and financial success.

Our good people will have their Thanksgiving at home this year. At the usual hour they will gather at a union service, Rev. H. S. Munger of the United Brethren Church reading the proclamation and Rev. C. B. Carlisle preaching the sermon. Special music for the occasion.

The company has recently put up a windmill, with a 24-foot wheel, which, in addition to other pumping power, and the reservoir, makes a complete service.

The Palms is coming into the notice of eastern people here for the winter, and some changes of property and some building is anticipated in the near future.

Whittier.

WHITTIER (Quaker Colony), Nov. 24.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Another election, and we are on top. A few weeks ago we voted $5000 bonds for public schoolhouse, but it was soon found to be the almost unanimous opinion that the amount was insufficient. Another call was issued for an additional $5000. Yesterday the matter was brought to a test. An opposition was started that looked enormous, but we came out, as usual, with flying colors—96 in favor, with 16 against. We will now soon have a building creditable to the district and to the cause.

Our school facilities, like those of almost every other place in Southern California, are inadequate. The cry is, more room. We will be fully equipped for the spring term.

John Dorlan was held up near Old River the other night on his way home from Los Angeles, and relieved of his pocketbook. Being a Friend he did not swear, but he thought pretty hard.

Mr. Cooper has failed to get on the track of his horses, lately taken from the pasture, but thinks he is in a fair way to catch the thief.

I see our Eagle Rock Valley ley is boasting of the magnanimous yield of tomatoes in their very fertile valley. We can boast of equally as good yield, comparing the location and advantages. A couple of our tenderfeet, for an experiment, set one and three-quarters acres in tomatoes—seed, not the plants—between rows of trees, and gave them but little attention and no water, and to date have sold 16 tons, with some five tons more on the vine, and a fair prospect of being able to furnish the village with tomatoes all winter. Next season, with proper care, the same piece will yield 30 tons.

Dr. Cowles of New York has purchased the Newlin orchard, and will soon erect thereon two or three cottages.

Dr. Jessup has purchased the Coryell place, near the school house, and will build in the spring.

Mrs. Engle, from Iowa, is visiting her brother, Mr. Briggs.

Mr. Sessions will soon erect two or three cottages on his addition. X.

GAMBLING SCHOOLS.

The Little Back Rooms of Cigar Stands.

Chief Benedict has probably overlooked, since he entered the Chief of Police office, the fact that there is a strong and effective law against a certain class of gambling that is carried on to an alarming extent in this city.

There are at least 150 cigar stands in this city, and many of them break the law daily.

In the rear of two-thirds of these lawless, small card rooms are fitted up, and the majority of people who visit them are boys between the ages of 10 and 21.

They not only learn to play cards, but half of the burglars and criminals that prey upon the city take their first lessons in vice in these dives.

There are hundreds of these boys who are going to the bad as fast as possible, and the police can close the dens up by arresting the proprietors under section 336 of the Penal Code which reads: "Every owner or lessee or keeper of any house . . . who knowingly permits any person under 21 years of age to play at any game of chance therein, shall be liable to arrest."

The officers can arrest the boys and send them to the Reform School.

There are several dens of this kind on Main street, and the better it will be for the youth of this city.

Another Richmond in the Field.

The following proclamation has been promulgated:

"E. FLORIBUS UNUM.

"I, Fannie Verona Baldwin, hereby announce myself as being a candidate for Mayor of the city of Los Angeles, State of California, for the ensuing term. My knowledge and my comprehension are sufficient to cope with any male man who may assume to appear against me as a candidate for the same office. I pledge myself to fealty to the Constitution of the United States neither recognizes nor prohibits any form of religion."

"Very truly, I am, 'FANNIE VERONA BALDWIN.'"

Attempted Burglary.

A man, who gave the name of E. Jones, was caught in the residence of John Berne, at No. 86 Turner street, and a police officer telephoned for. He was taken to the station, where he played off drunk, and was booked on that charge. Later Berne found that the rooms in his house had been entered, and called at the station, when one of the keys and a hammer were found in Jones's possession, which were identified by Berne. The charge against him was thereupon changed to burglary.

Looking Out for Gamblers.

One or two suspicious houses have been reported at the police station, where it is suspected that gambling may be going on, and the officers have received strict orders to watch them closely and to pull them at once if they find any game in operation. There may be a "dive" start up occasionally and run for a short time, but it will be suppressed just as soon as it is found out.

Chief Benedict says that, if it is possible, the evil shall be literally suppressed, and that any case brought to his notice will receive prompt attention.

The Weather.

SIGNAL OFFICE, LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—At 5:07 a.m. the thermometer registered 56; at 12:07 p.m., 66; at 5:07 p.m., 60. Barometer for corresponding periods, 29.81, 29.89, 29.90. Maximum temperature, 68; minimum temperature, 55. Weather, fair.

INDICATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Indications for 24 hours for California: Fair weather, preceded by light rain, in districts north of latitude of San Francisco; southwesterly winds; nearly stationary temperature.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

The Council will meet this morning at 10 o'clock in the City Hall building on Second street.

Mrs. C. Keegan, 988 San Pedro street, is the address of Mrs. Keegan, formerly of Texas, whom Capt. P. M. Darcy wishes to hear from.

Not a single man was brought into the County Jail up to 7 o'clock last evening. There were 200 prisoners in the tanks at that hour.

All the piers for the Downey-avenue viaduct are in place. It is said the work of laying the cable road on the avenue will commence this week.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office for Mrs. D. Solomon, Mrs. S. Shickler, Paula Kornitz, Dr. George F. Allen, Tews Bacon.

A meeting will be held in the Port-street M. E. Church, tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. for the purpose of organizing a Kamakahi club. Some forty names have already been sent in as members.

The police force were quite busy yesterday, but the arrests did not amount to anything. Eight drunks, four "vags" and one man booked for medical treatment; made up the list to 7 o'clock last night.

A very large audience was present to enjoy the concert given by the infant class of the First Baptist Sunday-school last evening. The little performers of 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 132, 134, 136, 138, 140, 142, 144, 146, 148, 150, 152, 154, 156, 158, 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, 174, 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, 186, 188, 190, 192, 194, 196, 198, 200, 202, 204, 206, 208, 210, 212, 214, 216, 218, 220, 222, 224, 226, 228, 230, 232, 234, 236, 238, 240, 242, 244, 246, 248, 250, 252, 254, 256, 258, 260, 262, 264, 266, 268, 270, 272, 274, 276, 278, 280, 282, 284, 286, 288, 290, 292, 294, 296, 298, 300, 302, 304, 306, 308, 310, 312, 314, 316, 318, 320, 322, 324, 326, 328, 330, 332, 334, 336, 338, 340, 342, 344, 346, 348, 350, 352, 354, 356, 358, 360, 362, 364, 366, 368, 370, 372, 374, 376, 378, 380, 382, 384, 386, 388, 390, 392, 394, 396, 398, 400, 402, 404, 406, 408, 410, 412, 414, 416, 418, 420, 422, 424, 426, 428, 430, 432, 434, 436, 438, 440, 442, 444, 446, 448, 450, 452, 454, 456, 458, 460, 462, 464, 466, 468, 470, 472, 474, 476, 478, 480, 482, 484, 486, 488, 490, 492, 494, 496, 498, 500, 502, 504, 506, 508, 510, 512, 514, 516, 518, 520, 522, 524, 526, 528, 530, 532, 534, 536, 538, 540, 542, 544, 546, 548, 550, 552, 554, 556, 558, 560, 562, 564, 566, 568, 570, 572, 574, 576, 578, 580, 582, 584, 586, 588, 590, 592, 594, 596, 598, 600, 602, 604, 606, 608, 610, 612, 614, 616, 618, 620, 622, 624, 626, 628, 630, 632, 634, 636, 638, 640, 642, 644, 646, 648, 650, 652, 654, 656, 658, 660, 662, 664, 666, 668, 670, 672, 674, 676, 678, 680, 682, 684, 686, 688, 690, 692, 694, 696, 698, 700, 702, 704, 706, 708, 710, 712, 714, 716, 718, 720, 722, 724, 726, 728, 730, 732, 734, 736, 738, 740, 742, 744, 746, 748, 750, 752, 754, 756, 758, 760, 762, 764, 766, 768, 770, 772, 774, 776, 778, 780, 782, 784, 786, 788, 790, 792, 794, 796, 798, 800, 802, 804, 806, 808, 810, 812, 814, 816, 818, 820, 822, 824, 826, 828, 830, 832, 834, 836, 838, 840, 842, 844, 846, 848, 850, 852, 854, 856, 858, 860, 862, 864, 866, 868, 870, 872, 874, 876, 878, 880, 882, 884, 886, 888, 890, 892, 894, 896, 898, 900, 902, 904, 906, 908, 910, 912, 914, 916, 918, 920, 922, 924, 926, 928, 930, 932, 934, 936, 938, 940, 942, 944, 946, 948, 950, 952, 954, 956, 958, 960, 962, 964, 966, 968, 970, 972, 974, 976, 978, 980, 982, 984, 986, 988, 990, 992, 994, 996, 998, 1000.

Last evening about 6 o'clock a telephone message was received at the police office from the Leland House on Second street, asking that an officer be sent down. Officer Valle was sent out, and brought back a drunken brute named Pat O'Neill, who was in the act of committing a nameless crime upon the person of a small boy. O'Neill's chances for a long term are very favorable, as it is a plain case, and Justice Austin will probably give him the full limit of the law.

A very pleasant affair took place yesterday morning in the church on Carr street. The contracting parties were George E. Lewis and Miss Marie A. Daforth. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends, after which the party repaired to the residence of the bride's parents on Lafayette avenue, where a wedding dinner was served. The bride and groom took the afternoon train for the north. They will return in a month, and make their home in Los Angeles.

WHAT THE EAST SIDERS THINK OF THE WORKS.

For some time past there has been more or less talk about the Avery gas works on the East Side, some saying that it was a nuisance and should be suppressed, while others thought that it was a public enterprise that should be encouraged, and that for the general good the one or two persons whom it inconvenienced should put up with a little discomfort until the company should get firmly on its feet and could make such improvements as would do away with even this cause for complaint. In order to find out the sentiment of the people on the subject, a Times reporter yesterday saw a number of prominent citizens of the East Side to get their views, first paying a visit to the works, which are situated on Truman street, a short distance from Downey avenue. The gas is made by the water process, and it is claimed that it is not more dangerous than coal gas. The smell is not pleasant, but it does not amount to a nuisance, and the works, which are very small, could easily be passed by without attracting attention. Some complaint has been made by residents in the immediate vicinity, but the persons in charge said that the unpleasant odor was caused by their own negligence in allowing the gas to escape, but that this could be prevented in future. Another objection that had been raised was that it was in the residence portion of the town, but it was stated that as the company had but a limited capital, it would have been prohibitory to have forced them to locate on the river bank. It was stated that about half a mile of mains had been laid, and that all the business places on Downey avenue were supplied with the gas, which gave satisfaction so far.

Councilman Jim Hanley said that they had invited some one to erect a gas plant on the East Side, and he did not think it was right now for the people to protest, especially as he regarded it as a necessity for the East Side, and this was the general sentiment of the various parties spoken to on the subject.

WORK OF A FIREBUG.

A Sunday Afternoon Fire—But Little Damage Done.

Yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was turned in from box No. 63, caused by the burning of a small frame shanty occupied as a shoe shop and shooting gallery opposite Lankershim's mill, near the corner of Commercial and Alameda streets. The engines turned out promptly, but there was little use for their services. A stream was turned on, however, and in a few seconds the flames were extinguished, after which the hook and ladder boys pulled down the few remaining boards of the shoe shop. The shop was owned by Fred Quinen, who, up to a short time ago, lived in the rear of the place. In the roof, which was of corrugated iron, there was one sheet which was loose, so it could be taken out to furnish light, and this was left open yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Quinen left the place. There was no fire about the place at that time, and Quinen thinks it was the work of an incendiary who wanted to get him out. He places his loss at $500, on which there was no insurance.

IT WAS LONG ENOUGH.

Colonel—Well, what's the matter now? Private—I've got liver trouble and dyspepsia, and ought to get leave for thirty days. Colonel—I'll give you ten, and if you take Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla that will be long enough.

Fred H. Blecker of 10 Montgomery street, San Francisco, writes: I have spent many a dollar for medicines, but the only thing that ever stopped my liver trouble and dyspepsia was Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.

Guay Solomon of 223 Valencia street, San Francisco, writes that he has entirely freed him of his indigestion and sick headache.
